In participating in the Erasmus + Programme, all participants commit to its fundamental priorities, which should be disseminated at the sending institution:

<https://erasmus-plus.ec.europa.eu/programme-guide/part-a/priorities-of-the-erasmus-programme>

PROCEDURE

Non-academic and academic staff from partner institutions in associated countries (outside Europe) can apply at their home institutions to be selected for a funded teaching mobility period (STA) of 8 hours of teaching, or 4 hours of teaching plus 4 hours of training activities, in a 5-day period.

Non-academic and academic staff from partner institutions in associated countries (outside of Europe) can apply at their home institutions to be selected for a funded period of Staff Mobility for Training (STT).

The sending institution should publish a Call and hold a transparent selection procedure based on merit and favoring inclusion. The call for applicants for this mobility, and the names of the successful candidates and the names of the applicants on the reserve list (Results of the Call) should be posted on the home university website. The sending institution should send the link to the Call and to its Results when nominating the participant.

Names, position and emails of the successful participants should be sent by email to the contact at the University of Huelva (drinter06@sc.uhu.es) so that the participants receive support and information. Participants will be put in contact with an academic staff member in Huelva to discuss suitable dates and topics for the classes.

FUNDING

Participants must stay in Huelva for a 5 working day period and will receive funding for 7 days, two of which correspond to travel days. The daily rate is 160€ and the travel allowance varies depending on the distance from Huelva. When participants have provided all the required documents, at least a month before the start of their mobility, payment in full will be made by bank transfer. Every effort will be made to send the bank transfer so that the funds arrive the week before the start of their mobility. This cannot be guaranteed as unforeseen delays in our Accounts Department or due to bank procedures can occur.

Participants should provide a document issued by their bank with the following information for the transfer of funds.

- Name of account holder (the participant must be the account holder or one of the account holders)
- Name of Bank
- Account number

The above information will not be accepted unless presented in a document issued by the participant's bank.

We also need the following codes:

- SWIFT Code of bank
- IBAN (if used in the country of the participant)

If SWIFT and IBAN are not included in the document issued by the bank, they can be sent in the text of an email.

To give you an idea of prices in Huelva, a hotel room (either individual or shared by two people) could cost from 100€-160€ per night with breakfast included. Other more economical options, can be investigated on internet.
