Closing Event of the ALPRODE Project. University of Huelva. Spain

May 4-8, 2026

From May 4 to 8, 2026, the partners of the ALPRODE consortium gathered at the University of Huelva (Spain) for the final closing event of the project ALPRODE. Curricular Innovation through Socio-Business Linkages for Sustainable Productive Development.

During these intensive working sessions, the meeting was structured around discussions held by the quality, administrative, and dissemination committees, with the aim of evaluating the achievements reached and planning the final stage of the project.

In addition, the event was attended and supported by the rector of the University of Huelva, Mr. José Rodríguez Quintero.

Between 2023 and 2026, the ALPRODE Project worked intensively to achieve major goals, including promoting academic training and workforce development in international cooperation and sustainable productive development within the framework of multi-stakeholder partnership schemes in Ecuador and Colombia.

This success would not have been possible without the collaboration of our international consortium, composed of 11 partners from Colombia, Ecuador, Spain, and Portugal.
